Scratchpad

I use scratchpads to get everything out of my head, in no particular order. Let it be messy and weird, it's okay.

BuJo ideas:

You can get ideas from googling "bullet journal" and your interest, like notetaking, collections, habit trackers, layouts, etc.

I like searching for "Basic bullet journal" spreads and such, so I don't have to try to be artistic...

I like to keep checklists at the front of the bullet journal, and emergency medical info in the back. (Careful about privacy tho!)

People make up their own symbols, for their own uses. When I note that I'm reading a book, I'll use a symbol like this:

I love the Leuchtturm1917 notebooks (especially the ones with lines or dots), but any notebook will do.
